THE MOST DANGEROUS WOMAN IN ENGLAND

She was, so Adolph Hitler once said, "the most dangerous woman in England."

Who was she? A spy? A nuclear scientist, on the verge of discovering the ultimate weapon?

She outlived Hitler, Goering, Himmler, and Mengele, the gruesome foursome. Churchill, Roosevelt, Montgomery, and MacArthur, the men who stood for something right, too, have long been dead. Perhaps Americans and a new generation of Britons have forgotten what this lady meant to the nation in those dark days.

When Hitler's bombers lit the night with tracers, when London burned, when Londoners huddled in shelters, the night finally came when Buckingham palace was also hit. Inside the palace were the two royal princesses, Elizabeth (later to be Queen Elizabeth II) and Margaret. Anxious newspaper reporters who toured the charred walls of the palace the next day asked the question that was on everybody's mind: Shouldn't the royal family spirit the princesses away from the center of London for their own safety? The queen mother's answer was a classic: "The children will not leave unless I do," she began. "I shall not leave unless their father does," she added, "and the king will not leave the country in any circumstances whatever."

Elizabeth, the feisty Queen Mother, was exactly what the nation needed at that moment. There must have been an irresistible temptation for royalty not to share in the troubles of her subjects. After all, even a Queen Mum loves her children! With the whiff of smoke and flames in the air and the scream of falling bombs overhead, the British royal family remained in London.

THOUGHTS: When the world burned with hatred and sin, God could have sheltered His Son in the comforts of heaven, but He did not. Jesus became human and endured the indignities of humanity. He walked the dusty streets of Palestine, had "no place to lay his head," and suffered death, surely the factor all humans have in common. He came to a burning planet and was singed by the same passions we all know. This gives Him the empathy that all great figures in history have possessed. He understands our plight. From Satan's point of view, that makes Jesus the most dangerous man in history! —Stan Mitchell
From Glad Tidings of Good Things

"For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted." Hebrews 2:18

Sunset Saturday Bible School Coming to Amarillo

Beginning yesterday, May 3, at 9:00 a.m., the Amarillo Bible Institute opened with its first class offering at 621 W. Sixth. The video classes include The Book of Romans and Historical Christian Evidence. Other classes will be offered to introduce Christian workers to the use of computer technology including Bible Classes with Microsoft PowerPoint and introduction to Multimedia 101 for the aspiring technical producer. Yesterday was orientation and it is not too late to attend these sessions. For details call Bruce Sexton—433-3389.

Dear San Jacinto Church,

I wish to express my appreciation for all the many thoughts and acts of kindness expressed by you. You were very gracious to send many letters of welcome to visit your fine church.

I thank the Ladies Bible Class for their prayers and get well card during my time of sickness. I also thank Dale Dennis for visiting me at my time of surgery and afterwards by telephone.

You are a friendly church who goes out to its way to make me feel welcome. As soon as I am able, I plan to be back with you.

Sincerely,

E. G. Sanders Jr.

The Bird Whistler

There's a story about an MIT student who spent an entire summer going to the Harvard football field every day wearing a black and white striped shirt, walking up and down the field for ten or fifteen minutes throwing birdseed, blowing a whistle, and then walking off the field.

At the end of the summer, it came time for the first Harvard home football game, the referee walked onto the field and blew the whistle, and the game had to be delayed for a half hour to wait for the birds to get off of the field.

The guy wrote his thesis on this, and graduated.
