THE BEST GIFT

A man came home from work late again, tired and irritated, to find his five-year-old son waiting for him at the door. "Daddy, may I ask you a question?"

"Yeah, sure. What is it?" replied the father. "Daddy, how much money do you make an hour?" "That's none of your business! What makes you ask such a thing?" the father said angrily.

"I just wanted to know. Please tell me. How much do you make an hour?" pleaded the little boy. "If you must know, I make $20 an hour," said his father.

Looking up, the boy said, "Daddy, may I borrow $9 please?" The father was furious. "If the only reason you wanted to know how much money I make is just so you can borrow some, then you march yourself straight to your room and go to bed. Think about why you're being selfish. I work long, hard hours every day, and don't have time for such childish games."

The boy quietly went to his room and shut the door. The father sat down and got madder about his son's questioning. How dare he ask such questions only to get some money! After an hour, he calmed down and started to think he might have been too hard on his son. Maybe there was something he really needed to buy with that $9. He didn't ask for money often.

The father went to his son's room and opened the door, "Are you asleep, son?" he asked.

"No, Daddy, I'm awake," replied the boy.

"I've been thinking. Maybe I was too hard on you earlier," said the father.

"It's been a long day, and I took my aggravations out on you. Here is the $9 you asked for."

The boy sat up straight, beaming. "Oh, thank you Daddy!" he said. Then reaching under his pillow, he pulled out some crumpled bills. He counted the money and then looked up at his father.

"Why did you want more money if you already had some?" the father asked.

"Because I didn't have enough, but now I do," the boy replied. "Daddy, I have $20 now! Can I buy an hour of your time?"

HUGGING TO LIFE

A business executive became depressed. Things were not going well at work, and he was bringing his problems home with him every night. Every evening he would eat his dinner in silence, shutting out his wife and five-year-old daughter. Then he would go into the den and read the paper—using the newspaper to wall his family out of his life.

After several nights of this, his daughter took her hand and pushed the newspaper down. She then jumped into her father's lap, wrapped her arms around his neck and hugged him strongly. The father said abruptly, "Honey, you are hugging me to death!" "No, Daddy," she said, "I'm hugging you to life!"

Jesus took people where they were and hugged them to life. "And he took the children up in his arms, put his hands on them and blessed them." Mark 10:16

Dear Friends at San Jacinto,

I was pleasantly surprised and deeply humbled by your welcome card. I am currently recovering from surgery and undergoing chemotherapy for seven weeks. I continue to take Bible study courses through the mail and will soon receive a completion certificate for the WBS course. I look forward to the day that I can join you, my new friends, in Bible study at San Jacinto church. I have been somewhat of a loner since the passing of my wife 15 years ago, and you don't know how it fills me with hope and gladness to receive words from people I have yet to meet. Until that time comes, you all will be in my prayers. Thank you and bless you all,

Peter Miller

Fathers Then & Now

In 1900, fathers said, "A man's home is his castle." Today, they say, "Welcome to the money pit."

In 1900, if a father had breakfast in bed, it was eggs, bacon, ham and potatoes. Today, it's Special K, soy milk, dry toast and a lecture on cholesterol.

In 1900, a father's horsepower meant his horses. Today it's the size of his minivan.

*****

Don't forget VBS starts tomorrow night at 6:00 with hot dogs in the Family Center. Please invite children ages 4 years to 5th grade to attend.

*****

Anyone can be a father, but it takes a real man to be a Daddy!

****

My father gave me the greatest gift anyone could give another person, he believed in me.

*****

I don't care how poor a man is; if he has a family, he's rich.

By the time a man realizes that maybe his father was right, he usually has a son who thinks he's wrong.
