OVERCOMING DISCOURAGEMENT

Working for the Lord can sometimes be very discouraging. There are times when we plan, work, and sacrifice in order to obey God (by serving others), yet those we serve don't seem to appreciate our efforts. Instead of thanking us, they criticize us and talk bad about us behind our backs. We may begin wondering "what's the use, should I keep knocking myself out, if what I am doing is not appreciated?" We think, "Maybe I should pull back and not work so hard, or maybe I should just quit altogether." During times like these, we need to stop and consider our thinking. Discouragement is a feeling, and feelings can be controlled by the way we think. James told the Christians of the dispersia to rejoice (feeling) in their trials by knowing (thinking) that the testing of their faith developed perseverance (James 1:2-3). Paul encouraged the Corinthian Christians by directing their minds to a godly view of their trials. "Therefore my dear brothers, stand firm. Let nothing move you. Always give yourself fully to the work of the Lord, because you know (thinking) that your labor in the Lord is not in vain" (1 Corinthians 15:58).

Whenever you are criticized, or whenever you are not being shown appreciation for your hard work, and you begin feeling discouraged, go to God's word for a mental tune-up. By filling our minds with the truths of God, Christians can overcome discouragement!

EXERCISE:

1. Read the following passages of scripture at least once this week: 1 Corinthians 15:58; Galatians 6:9-10; Matthew 5:11-12; Acts 5:17-24; James 5:7-9.
2. Thank God for the truths He has given you that can empower you to think the right way, feel the right way, and behave the right way.

MISTAKES

Erasers are such handy things
On pencils, there's no doubt.
A few quick rubs, the wrong words go,
Mistakes are soon rubbed out.
But errors of a different sort
That cannot be erased,
Are often spilled from someone's lips,
And cannot be replaced.
And with each thoughtless spoken word,
Sharp as a leopard's tooth,
The harm we do is just as great,
As some widespread untruth.
But with those careless spoken words,
Erasers play no part.
The mark we leave, by word or deed,
Cuts deep in someone's heart.

BULLETIN DIGEST

ELDERLY

While working for an organization that delivers lunches to elderly shut-ins, I use to take my 4-year-old daughter on my afternoon rounds. She was unfailingly intrigued by the various appliances of old age, particularly the canes, walkers and wheelchairs. One day I found her staring at pair of false teeth soaking in a glass. As I braced myself for the inevitable barrage of questions, she merely turned and whispered, "The tooth fairy will never believe this!"

Funny, we call God our Father and Jesus our Brother, but find it hard to introduce them to our family.
