WILL YOUR CHILDREN GO TO HEAVEN?

Elders all over the nation are concerned about the dropout rate of our young people. They certainly ought to be. It is a tragic thing to see the precious boys and girls who are so thrilled with the Bible study as little people, grow cold and uninterested in the Lord's work as they grow older.

Lately several congregations have made in-depth studies of all the factors available concerning all their young people with an eye to learning what might be done to help solve this problem. What do we need? Special teachers? More youth programs? More rallies?

From the material that has been published on these studies, it seems to me that one great central truth has begun to emerge. Faithfulness of the young person to Jesus does not have anything to do with special programs or teachers. It is not dependent on whether they are members of a large congregation or a small one. The single most important value is their own immediate family.

One congregation found that where parents were faithful to the Lord, the children remained faithful. On the other hand, if only one parent of the kids remained faithful, that figure dropped to 73%. Where the parents were what we would call only reasonably active in the Lord's work, only 53% of the young people maintained their faith.

Now here comes the shocker! In those cases where both parents attended infrequently, the percentage of their children who remained faithful to the Lord was 6%!

Do you want your children to go to heaven? Then make certain you are leading them there!

“I Done It For Love”

On a Saturday night, a Christian widow and mother, very busy with household chores, asked her seven-year-old son to clean and polish her shoes. He worked hard on them. Later on in the evening, he brought her the shoes. She was so pleased she rewarded him with a new, shiny dime. The next morning, the mother decided to wear those shoes to services. As she put them on she notice a lump in the left shoe. Taking it off she found the dime wrapped in a paper. Written on the paper, in her son's childish scrawl were these simple words: “I done it for love.”

SOMEONE EXPLAIN TO ME!

I understand that Jesus, who is the Son of God, promised to, and did, build His Church (Matt. 16). Now let's allow that to sink in for a minute. Now if that church is His and not mine, by what authority would I attempt to change His church? Some tout how important it is for the church to change. I must ask, change to what? How in the world do we change what doesn't belong to us?

If you came into my house and started to move the furniture around, I would be very upset. If you attempted to flirt with my wife, I would be very angry. Yet many trifle with the house of Jesus. They will strive to pull His bride away into an adulterous relationship with the world (Eph. 5). If some are so enamored with the churches of men, why don't they go join one? There are only about 7,000 of them! One of them would surely fit your fancy.

If you want to put women in the pulpit, poems in place of teaching the lost, and instrumental music in the place of singing, you will not have to look far to find a place to worship. The churches of men are already involved in that kind of foolishness.

It was late at night and Heidi, who was expecting her second child, was home alone with her three-year-old daughter, Katelyn. Heidi started to go into labor and called 911. Due to a power outage at the time, only one paramedic was able to respond to the call.

The house was very, very dark, so the paramedic asked Katelyn to hold a flashlight high over her mommy so he could see while he helped deliver the baby.

Very diligently, Katelyn did as she was asked. Heidi pushed and pushed, and after a little while Connor was born. The paramedic lifted him by his feet, and spanked him on his bottom. Connor began to cry. The paramedic then thanked Katelyn for her help, and asked the wide-eyed three-year-old what she thought about what she had just witnessed.

Katelyn quickly responded, “He shouldn't have crawled in there in the first place. Spank him again!”
