MUTINY ON THE BOUNTY

Many recognize these words as the title of some well-known novels and movies. Clark Gable and Charles Laughton starred in a movie of the same name in 1935. Another Mutiny on the Bounty was released in 1962, starring Trevor Howard and Marlon Brando. More recently, Anthony Hopkins and Mel Gibson starred in The Bounty in 1984. Each of these movies and other novels are based on actual historical events.

The “mutiny on the Bounty” was a mutiny aboard a British Royal Navy ship, the HMS Bounty, on April 28, 1789. The mutiny was led by Fletcher Christian against the notorious captain, William Bligh. Bligh and eighteen of his loyal followers were cast adrift in a small open boat; they later made it to safety.

Fletcher Christian and eight fellow mutineers, along with six Tahitian men and eleven women, set sail in Bounty hoping to elude the British Royal Navy. On January 15, 1790, they rediscovered Pitcairn Island, which had been misplaced on the Royal Navy’s charts. The passengers of the Bounty settled on the island, and to prevent the ship’s detection, the ship was burned on January 23, 1790, in what is now called “Bounty Bay.”

Although the settlers were able to survive by farming and fishing, the initial period of settlement was marked by serious tensions among the settlers. In just a few short years, alcoholism, murder, disease—even a civil war—took the lives of most of the mutineers and all of the Tahitian men.

John Adams and Ned Young were the last two surviving mutineers. In order to establish a new and peaceful society among the remaining inhabitants of Pitcairn Island, they turned to the Bible as their guide. Adam and Young sought to follow the principles of Christianity and taught the children to read and write using the Bible. When Young died of an asthmatic infection, Adams continued his work of educating the women and children, using Biblical principles.

On September 17, 1814, the crews of two British ships, the Briton and Tagus, found the community on Pitcairn Island. John Adams, nine women, and some children were the sole inhabitants. The British commanders were charmed by the physique, simplicity, and piety of the Islanders.

What they witnessed in the lives of Adams and his “congregation” is testimony of the power of God’s Holy Word! “The gospel of Christ...is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth.” Romans 16:16

GLAD TIDINGS OF GOOD THINGS

Jacksonville, AL

To my church family,
During my illness and the Christmas season, Jill and I received something like 100 get well—encouragement—love you—and all sorts of just uplifting timely messages that touched our hearts and souls when they really needed it. I sat down and started to answer these one by one, did about ten and I just couldn’t do it. There are no words to thank you or to tell you what those cards meant to us—or the calls you made.

I find I am too emotional and thankful to describe what this body of Christians means to us.
God Bless you all and thank you,
Bill and Jill McAllister

Gracious and loving Father in heaven, we want to let everyone in our San Jacinto church family know how much we appreciate all the love and care we feel from everyone. In the sixty-three years we have been together we have not known any group of people with the love and care we have received here. The only problem we have is trying to find the words to express our feelings. Unfortunately, there are none that express how we feel.

Thanks just isn’t good enough, so we pray our Lord’s blessing on each and every one, and that when the end comes each one may walk those streets of gold with Jesus in whose name we pray, Amen.

James and Jean Harris

A burglar broke into a house one night. He shined his flashlight around, looking for valuables, when a voice in the dark said, “Jesus knows you’re here.” He nearly jumped out of his skin, clicked his flashlight off, and froze. When he heard nothing more, after a bit, he shook his head and continued. Just as he pulled the stereo out so he could disconnect the wires, clear as a bell he heard, “Jesus is watching you.”

Freaked out, he shined his light around frantically, looking for the source of the voice. Finally, he spotted a parrot. “Did you say that?” “Yep,” the parrot answered, “I’m trying to warn you that Jesus is watching you.” The burglar relaxed. “Warn me, huh? Who in the world are you?” “Moses,” replied the bird. “What kind of people would name a bird ‘Moses?’” laughed the burglar. “The kind of people who would name a Rottweiler, ‘Jesus.’”

Announcements

Today’s greeters are Bill and Joyce Leonard. Next week Dewain and Donna Bilbrey will be the greeters.

Visitation Team One need to see Joe and Sue Hershey after evening services for their assignments.

Westview Boys’ Home truck will be here January 11th. There are sacks in the foyer for your donations. Money can be given.

Wednesday night, the 23rd, attendance was 23 kids and 47 adults. Due to the early printing of the bulletin these numbers were not available.

A teacher in the second grade drew a greater-than(>) and a less-than (<) on the chalkboard and asked, “Does anyone remember what these mean?” A few moments passed, and then a boy confidently raised his hand. “One means fast-forward, and the other means rewind.”

Grandpa is the smartest man on earth! He teaches me good things, but I don’t get to see him enough to get as smart as he is.
