

The Family

John Dannelley is in Plum Creek Specialty Hospital for rehabilitation.

Sue Hershey is home from the hospital. She is better, but continues to be weak from the anemia and pneumonia.

Homer Jones, father of David Jones, is back at his assisted living facility.

Stan Keeney has been having some health problems. He is in Taos at his cabin.

Myrna White, sister of Charlotte Miller, is having extreme pain from her sciatic nerve.

My grandson, Carl, age 3, came into the bathroom as I was getting ready to go out. He asked what I was doing and I explained that I was putting on makeup so I would look nice. I made the mistake of asking, "Do you think I'm pretty?" Carl quickly replied, "You better work a little longer."

WHAT'S ON YOUR MIND?

One night a wife found her husband standing over their baby's crib. Silently she watched him. As he stood looking down at the sleeping infant, she saw on his face a mixture of emotions: disbelief, doubt, delight, amazement, enchantment, skepticism. Touched by this unusual display and the deep emotions it aroused, with eyes glistening, she slipped her arm around her husband. "A penny for your thoughts," she said. "It's amazing!" he replied. "I just can't see how anybody can make a crib like that for only $46.50."

Sometimes our thoughts are not as grand as they might be. We partake of the Lord's Supper and ought to have our thoughts centered on the sacrifice of our Savior. Instead, we think about what we're going to eat for our dinner. We see a spectacular sunset and ought to be led to reflect on the glory and grandeur of God the Creator. Instead, we wonder who's winning the ball game.

You get the idea. As difficult as it is to keep our lives and our tongues under control, it seems so much more difficult to bring our "every thought into captivity" (2 Cor. 10:5). If we're not careful, our thoughts tend to wander into forbidden territory. Allow these words of Paul to call us back: "Finally, brethren, whatever things are true, whatever things are noble, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report, if there is any virtue and if there is anything praiseworthy—meditate on these things" (Phil. 4:8).

You Cannot (Abraham Lincoln)

You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.

You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.

You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.

You cannot lift the wage earner up by pulling the wage payer down.

You cannot further the brotherhood of man by inciting class hatred.

You cannot build character and courage by taking away people's initiative and independence.

You cannot help people permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

Bodyguards VS. Lifeguards

Elvis Presley was one of the most talented singers and performers in the history of our country.

In fact, the Smithsonian Institute described Elvis as having the most influential impact in the entire history of American music. This man earned over two billion—yes, billion with a "b"—dollars in his brief life. And those were 1950 and 1960 dollars! He was talented. He was wealthy. But he was not self-disciplined.

The total essence of Elvis was ignored. He was driven. He was obsessed with music, career and success. Someone who knew Elvis explained that he didn't need bodyguards, but he did need lifeguards to protect him from himself. This was true about Elvis. And it's true about a lot of other people as well.

Someone was describing a young man delivering his very first sermon. They said, "In the first five minutes, he waded out in water over his head, and for the next twenty-five just stood there and blubbered."

While waiting in a local barbershop, I noticed a teenaged boy walk in. He had long hair plastered to his scalp. The barber looked up and asked, "Do you want a haircut or an oil change?"

While talking to my wife about a business deal I was working on, I pointed out that it was all but settled, adding, "The handwriting is on the wall." Our 6-year-old grandson, Seth, overheard my remark and chimed in, "But Grandpa, I didn't have anything to do with it!"

After the birth of our great-granddaughter we visited the hospital with our great-grandson, Nicholas, 5. Our granddaughter, Nikki, was worried about Nicholas' reaction to seeing her nurse the baby. Before long, the baby started fussing, letting us know she was hungry. "What are we gonna feed her?" Nicholas asked. Nikki thought and then said, "Nicholas, do you remember the dog that had the puppies?" A look of horror came across his little face. "Is she gonna eat dog food?"
