

The Family

Delbert Love is at The Community Living Center for rehab.

Sharon Bean had her laparoscopic exam. She is now home.

My son, who has a pacemaker, was play-wrestling with his 5-year-old grandson, Jonathan. He had his shirt off, so Jonathan noticed his scar and asked, "Papa, what happened to you?"

Jokingly, Papa replied, "That's where I got shot in the Army." Jonathan quickly replied, "No, Papa, you didn't get shot in the Army. That is where you got your ice maker put in."

While the adults visited around the table at my daughter's home, my 4-year-old granddaughter, Sky, brought her dolls over to the table and began moving their legs back and forth, making their knees crack. She looked at me and said, "Hey, Grandma, your knees sound just like Barbie's!"

Haiti: Hated or Loved?

Bertrand Russell, a 20th Century atheistic philosopher, claimed that no one could sit by the bedside of a child with a terminal disease and believe in a loving God.

A question that is surely being asked now: "How can a world created by a loving, omnipotent God experience devastating earthquakes as the magnitude 7.0 in Haiti?" Before this quake perhaps 80% of the people lived in abject poverty, with children composing about half the population.

A song entitled, "Tell Me The Story of Jesus," contains the following lyrics:

Tell of the years of His labor,
Tell of the sorrow He bore;
He was despised and afflicted,
Homeless, rejected and poor...

Tell of the cross where thy nailed Him,
Writhing in anguish and pain.

During the course of His brief earthly life, Jesus, God's one and only Son, bore excruciating (this word derives from "crucifixion") sorrow and suffering (cf. Heb. 12:2). In spite of all this, can there be any doubt of God the Father's constant love for His Son? At Jesus' baptism, God's voice from heaven said, "This is My Son, whom I love; with Him I am well pleased" (Matt. 3:17).

Fanny J. Crosby, who wrote the lyrics of "Tell Me the Story of Jesus," lost her eyesight when about six weeks old (due evidently to a medical mistake). Instead of blaming God or saying there is no God or no loving God, her long life of 95 years was filled with writing over 8,000 hymns of praise. She came to view her blindness as a special gift from God that stimulated other gifts and talents.

The Bible teaches that whatever one's lot on earth, whatever mixture of happiness and tears, life after death for people of God can be described as eternal joy and complete absence of mourning or crying or pain (Rev. 21:3-4).

Bertrand Russell felt unable to reconcile the situation of a terminally ill child with belief in a loving God. A minister who had experience with dying children challenged the unbeliever to explain what he himself could offer such a child. An atheist could only say something like, "Sorry, that's how it goes. This is the end of everything for you."

Contrast this hopeless declaration with such promise as in John 3:16: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."

God loves Haitians and all others in the world. He provided and offers to ALL hope in this life and eternal life through his Son. "Whosoever will" may accept His offer by believing and trusting Jesus (Acts 16:30-31), turning from sin to repentance (Acts 17:30-31), confessing Jesus before men (Rom 10:9-10), and being baptized into Christ for the forgiveness of sins (Acts 2:38; Gal 3:27).

Will YOU accept His offer? —Allen Dixon and David Sargent

A letter from Preacher Jones

Attendance at church last Sunday was mighty poor. I don't reckon I oughta grumble 'cause I had a bunch of sick members and when you add to that all the shut-ins, we don't have many pew fillers. So I went ahead and preached to what I had. Only thing was the echo in the near empty church building hurt my ears. My wife said I needed to get out and ride awhile and let the fresh air clear my head. It done the trick. Our little ride not only cleared my head, it made me feel right good inside. What I saw made me rejoice. I saw miracle after miracle.

Of Hezekia, who had been deathly sick that very morning, had roused up and was riding down the highway with his fishing poles. No, nothing but a miracle could have rescued old Hez from the jaws of death in such a short time.

Now there was Rufe's brother. Rufe told me Sunday morning that his brother's back was in such a foul shape that they was afraid a operation was gonna be necessary. Well, we remembered him in our prayers and lo and behold at 2:00, there he stood at the driving range hitting golf balls. If that wasn't a quick recovery, I don't know what is.

All told, about 20 of our sick folks had roused up and was taking nourishment in one form or another. But what really made me happy was to see so many of our "shut-ins" out riding around and enjoying the world. Hezekia's pa, who don't attend church 'cause he can't stand crowds was headed for the drag races. Sister Nell's mama who was too weak to get outta the house was in town shopping. Ellie Nickelsinger's sister, who can't come on account of her kidney, stood in line two hours to get into the show. It was a show about "The Miracle Worker." I thought it was right appropriate, seeing as how a miracle had happened to her.

Yes, sir, it thrilled my heart to see what I saw. I oughta have a packed house next Sunday with all the sick folks being healed and the shut-ins being set free. I just hope they don't overdo themselves
